

AAC Bill of Rights

To make my own choices

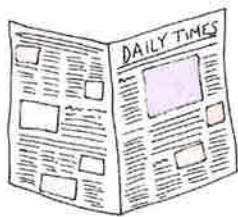

To ask for what I want and need

To say no and refuse anything

To express my feelings

To give and receive information

To ask for and receive attention and connection

I have the right...

To have access to my speech system at all times

To be taught how to communicate

To be talked to, not about

To know and have a say about my schedule and world

To be treated with dignity and respect

To be a full member of my community
